What does positive education mean at Brigidine?

Flourish at Brigidine

Raising awareness of others takes courage, resilience, optimism and respect. The key to opening these traits is student wellbeing. By deliberately engaging in activities for the benefit of others, students are able to feel they can make a difference in the world.

Students need something to believe in, something bigger than themselves. By actively participating in community service students learn to have empathy for others. The experience leads to a greater awareness of their own strengths and their ability to develop a positive mindset to manage life's challenges and opportunities.

Brigidine College is well known for its positive education program. We know what girls need when it comes to their education. At Brigidine girls thrive, enhance their learning potential and make a difference in the world through a greater awareness of their own strengths and their ability to develop a positive mindset to manage life's challenges and opportunities.

Students need something to believe in that is bigger than themselves.

and priorities

Our process engaging all members of our Loreto Kirribilli community. Our Sisters will continue to contribute towards achieving our strategic vision of a core business of Teaching and Learning in our context of the 21st century.

Engaging practices

Our students are encouraged to be curious learners, able to respond both as independent and interdependent thinkers. They will have a capacity for discernment that supports loving and responsible service.

We will achieve our teaching and learning priorities by imbedding our school's learning principles with consistency and rigour in every classroom, creating high quality learning experiences for all.

Our students' learning experiences will continue to be rich and challenging, promoting the intellectual, personal and spiritual growth of every child. In so doing our students will have the capacity to make valued contributions to their local community and wider society.

Our Loreto Kirribilli girls will continue to be confident, articulate and courageous learners with a strong growth mindset.

Loreto Community:

Liberating and motivating through leadership and service for and beyond the Loreto community

Loreto Kirribilli values and respects each member of our community.

As a Catholic school educating in the tradition of Mary Ward we believe all members of our community should understand, practise and develop knowledge, values and actions which will continue to educate, liberate and motivate our students and those with whom they come in contact.

We will build upon opportunities for students, staff and parents to continue to hear and live the Gospel message and bring the Loreto mission to life through a lived commitment to faith in action.

In our school, we recognise and celebrate leadership. We support and challenge our students to understand and accept their responsibilities to develop a lifelong capacity for service through leadership. Through a coordinated framework each student will deepen her understanding of her responsibilities to herself and others as a member and leader of society.

Our students will be engaged global citizens. Their world view will be enhanced by the development of responsibility and accountability through service ministry and spiritual formation programs which will inspire them to be innovative critical thinkers.

Loreto Kirribilli will continue to be a community where positive relationships flourish, the dignity and rights of all are respected and where joy and hope are hallmarks.

Sustainability:

Enabling high performance and efficiency through systems and processes

Sustainability is an essential element in the life of Loreto Kirribilli as a contemporary, forward thinking learning community which enacts responsible and ethical stewardship of its environment and resources.

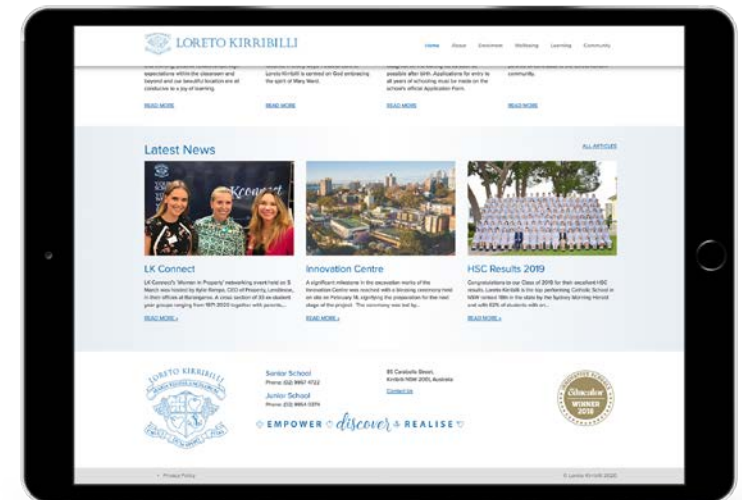

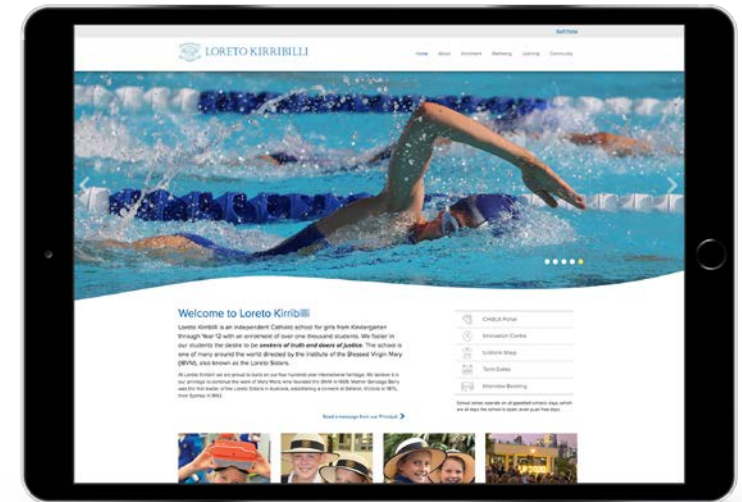

We take responsibility for monitoring and reviewing our operations and processes so that our systems are financially and operationally sound, and promote continual improvement in all aspects of our work.

The development and implementation of a Master Plan will enable the strategic deployment of resources. We will provide functional and attractive learning spaces which effectively support contemporary pedagogy. Our Information Technology infrastructure will strongly support teaching and learning, clear communication across the school community and efficient administration systems.

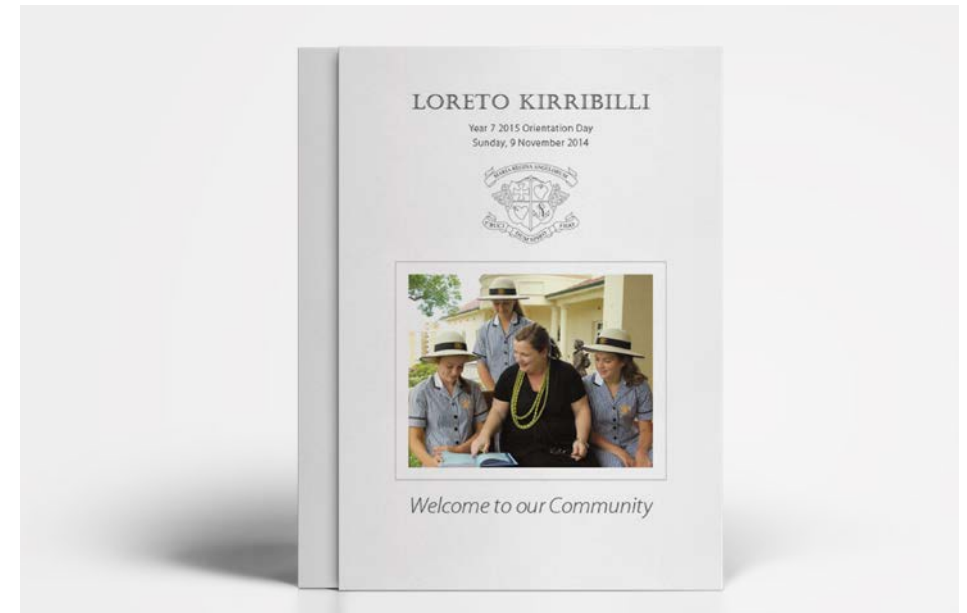

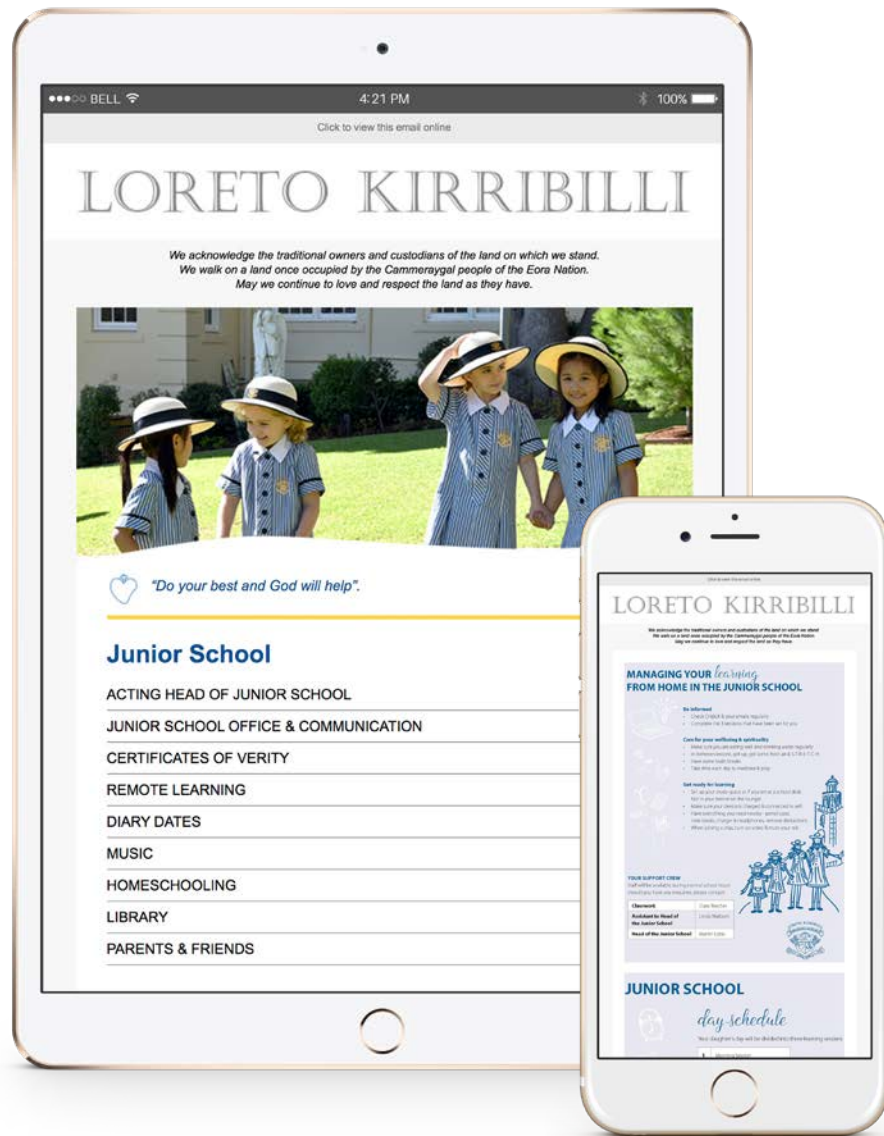

Staff are respected and valued, supported and challenged in their work. Both teaching and support staff undertake the shared task of providing and supporting a dynamic and innovative learning environment, and contributing to the mission of the Church through the Loreto charism.
